Knowledge and environment for breast feeding

The cartoon consists of four panels arranged in a 2x2 grid:

- Top Left Panel: Text: "White-collar workers have better knowledge and practice toward breast feeding than blue-collar workers." Illustration: "Breast feeding" (a woman kissing a baby) and "Breast pumping" (a woman using a pump).
- Top Right Panel: Text: "To promote the breast feeding, workers need to be equipped with knowledge." Illustration: A woman with a surprised expression. A box contains: "Breast feeding → 1. immunologic enhancement of baby 2. hormonal & uterine stability of mother".
- Bottom Left Panel: Text: "In addition, workers need to be provided with good environment." Illustration: A sign for "Lactation room" with an arrow. Below, a box says "Employer's consideration" next to a woman holding a baby.
- Bottom Right Panel: Text: "Knowledge and environment contribute to the maternal and child health of both white-collar and blue-collar workers." Illustration: Two women, one white-collar and one blue-collar, each holding a baby. Below them are two stacked boxes: "Knowledge" (top, light blue) and "Environment" (bottom, light pink).
